Calls From the Census Bureau

In some circumstances, you may receive a call from the Census Bureau after responding, at the number you provided.

Census workers will occasionally follow up with homes to ask questions about their responses. The goal is to ensure that no person is left out of the census or counted in more than one place.

All responses are kept confidential. The 2020 Census caller will not ask about your financial information or Social Security number. They will only review the responses that you previously provided.

If you think you missed a call from the Census Bureau but want to confirm, call 844-330-2020 to speak with a local Census Bureau representative.
